

FIELD LEADER

BOOTCAMP

NOVEMBER 11-12, 2026

The techniques of leading projects are well known.

But to graduate to the next level and join the ranks of "best of class," your project leadership must learn to think and act like business owners.

During this high-impact program, project delivery professionals examine their own talents, their organizations and their processes, thereby transforming from talented builders to true construction entrepreneurs.

Instructor:

Gregg M. Schoppman,
Principal, FMI Corporation

Location:

ABC of Iowa
3100 SE Enterprise Dr.
Grimes, IA 50111

DAY 1: NOVEMBER 11 (8 AM - 3 PM)

Productivity & Time Management

- Define the tools for world class productivity
- Identify the barriers to productivity within an organization
- Understand how to manage time more efficiently
- Examine the "clutter" that affects true time management
- Understand the value of delegation as a leader and how it relates to being a superior time manager

DAY 2: NOVEMBER 12 (8 AM - 3 PM)

Leadership & Management

- Examine the traits of great leaders and great managers
- Define the elements of POC (Management) and SAM (Leadership)
- Learn the steps needed for channeling one's own leadership identity
- Understand the value of communication and negotiation
- Examine the different generations - particularly the millennials - and capture their hearts and minds

REGISTER HERE

BY OCTOBER 30TH

$650/Member $1,050/Non-Member

RESERVATIONS ARE REQUIRED. SPOTS ARE LIMITED TO 30.

Course materials, breakfast & lunch are included with registration.